

Professional Development Course for K-12 Teachers

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

ED 560 Changes in ESOL Education

Are you searching for ways to improve educational outcomes and opportunities for English learners?

Are you seeking professional development that moves beyond the basics?

This course is intended for K-12 teachers who earned an ESOL endorsement more than five years ago, as well as those with equivalent background knowledge.

Find more information regarding our courses and registration at:

education.oregonstate.edu/dls
Tiffany Palaniuk, ESOL & DL Program Lead
541-737-2983
tiffany.palaniuk@oregonstate.edu

Summer Registration Starts
April 14

Course Features:

- Explore recent developments in education for K-12 emergent bilingual students through practice-based projects.
- Take this online course from anywhere with an Internet connection.
- Earn 3 graduate-level credits from Oregon State University.
- If you are bilingual in Spanish and English, this course can also lead to a Dual Language Specialization

Oregon State University

Dual Language Specialization

Are you teaching in a dual language program or interested in doing so?

What is it?

OSU's Dual Language Specialization Program is designed to assist dual language and bilingual teachers in developing the knowledge and skills to effectively help K-12 students improve their bilingual, biliterate, and multicultural competencies.

Program Features

- Fully-online coursework
- OSU's newly-approved Dual Language Specialization program is building on the experience of our online ESOL endorsement courses.
- Candidates may begin any term and take the courses at their own pace
- Two of the courses - ED 570 Biliteracy Instruction and ED 571 Multilingual Linguistics for Teachers - are taught bilingually in Spanish and English

Dual Language + ESOL:

Our ESOL Endorsement program requires 18 credit hours and incorporates strategically overlapping coursework. Candidates in our Dual Language Specialization Program may simultaneously earn the ESOL Endorsement and the Dual Language Specialization for 21 credit hours.

Dual Language Only:

Candidates who are already ESOL-endorsed in Oregon may complete the program in 9-12 credit hours, depending on the recency of ESOL coursework.

EDUCATION.OREGONSTATE.EDU/DLS

Oregon State
University